- One 'live' lesson where classes can engage in learning with their teacher through seeing a presentation and listening to their teacher. The 'live' lesson will last approximately 45 minutes with work set for students to complete afterwards. Students will also be able to use the 'chat' function to ask questions, complete quizzes and be involved in 'real time' activities. The lesson will also be recorded so that students can return to it at a later point or catch up if they were unable to attend the lesson 'live'.
- Three pre-recorded lessons giving instructions, explanations and modelling expectations for students to complete independently, the work and recording should take approximately 60-75 minutes. As these are recorded students can watch at their own pace and this allows flexibility. Staff will also be available to answer any questions via the google classroom to support learning.
- One 30 minute session per day of physical activity and/or mindfulness, such as a Joe Wicks work out, a walk, yoga, bike ride etc. Ideas have been shared with students via their year group classroom.
